

Web meeting: Sustainability in logistics

September 26, 2017, 16:00-17:00 CEST

The logistics sector is present everywhere – logistic companies operate in almost all industries and sectors. Although logistics is present in our daily life, there is a lack of discussion and action when it comes to sustainability in the sector when often social standards are ignored.

This web meeting marks the starting point of a potential partnership to tackle issues collectively, which will be further explored in a workshop on December 5. The aim of this web meeting is to form a small action group of willing companies, National Partner Organisations and other strategic partners to co-implement a project that leverages their capacity to address common challenges and opportunities linked to sustainability in logistics.

Join this web meeting to:

- ✓ Hear and discuss the main challenges of sustainability in logistics
- ✓ Receive an update on the current EU policy framework
- ✓ Explore how companies improve social, sustainable and industry standards in logistics
- ✓ Learn and discuss how collaboration in logistics can lead towards industry standards, eco-efficiency or improved working standards in logistics
