

Webinar: Materiality of Human Rights

Sector Perspectives

22nd November (16:00-17:00 CET)

CSR Europe project on management and transparency has this year focused on materiality to address its definition, process and application of materiality outcomes. Building on the experience of the materiality masterclass in September 2016 and on CSR Europe work on business and human rights, the present webinar aims at defining the materiality of human rights going beyond the wide term of human rights and trying to define what do they represent in different sectors.

Join this webinar, in order to:

- ✓ Learn more about human rights and how they are material to business
- ✓ Get a sector perspective to address how human rights have broader meaning with respect to different business areas
- ✓ Learn from experienced companies on their materiality assessment when it comes to human rights
